Clinton To Veto Dollars Out Of Michigan's Pockets

Economists have universally attested to the positive economic effects of a balanced budget. These include lower tax rates on families with children and lower interest rates on home mortgages, car loans, and student loans. Today, the President is anticipated to veto the Balanced Budget Act, a bill that would have required government to live within its means for the first time in a generation. Here is what the President's veto of this historic bill means to you.

If Clinton had signed the Balanced Budget Act . . .

. . . Americans would have saved:

- ▶ $2,388 a year in mortgage payments on a house with a $75,000, 30-year mortgage.
- ▶ $1,026 over the life of a 4-year loan on a car worth $15,000.
- ▶ $1,891 over the life of a 10-year student loan of $11,000.
- ▶ $74,381 over the lives of all these loans.

. . . Families with children would have received a tax credit that would have:

- ▶ Helped 28 million families raising 51 million children and eliminated the federal income tax bill for over 3.5 million families raising almost 9 million children.
- ▶ Saved families with two children $1,000 — enough for the average family to buy 3 months of groceries, or make 1½ mortgage payments, or pay electric bills for 11 months.

. . . The average citizen of Michigan would have saved:

- ▶ $3,914 per year from lower mortgage payments.
- ▶ $182 per year from lower state taxes due to lower state and local interest payments.
- ▶ $584 per year from lower interest payments on a student loan.

. . . Michigan families would have received a tax credit that would have:

- ▶ Helped over 1,133,000 Michigan taxpayers with over 2,117,000 dependents. That's over $977 million per year staying with these working families.
- ▶ Eliminated the federal income tax bill in our state for over 131,000 taxpayers with over 327,000 dependents. That's $92 million per year staying with these working families.
- ▶ Paid for nearly 3 years of tuition payments at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, if the parents banked the $500 tax credit for 18 years. [Source: Heritage Foundation]

... State and local governments in Michigan would have saved:

- ▶ Over $651 million in interest payments over seven years, due to lower interest rates from a balanced budget.
  - ▶ That's $651 million available for tax relief, more schools, better roads, and more local police.

Because of Clinton's Veto of the Balanced Budget Act . . .

- ▶ We can expect interest rates to increase.
  - ▶ These increases will cost the average American family $979 more per year on their home mortgages, student loans, and car loans, and $1,500 in future taxes to pay for the extra $100 billion in annual interest payments on new federal debt.

- ▶ Evidently, the President either thinks these costs are acceptable or he has a real plan to produce a real balanced budget in seven years.
  - ▶ I look forward to seeing the President's plan to produce a real balanced budget in seven years.
